Clients may hire a private instructor for various reasons that include brushing up on specific skills, introduction to a new style without the intimidation of being in a class setting, to gain audition or performance tips, to learn a set piece of choreography for a performance, or to have choreography tailored for a personal project. Additional fees may apply depending on the extent of prep work required for your lesson.

Clients can book as many sessions as they wish. If the client does not know how many sessions they will need, discounts will be made accordingly as they book additional consecutive sessions. If more than one month lapses between sessions, a new package will be created for the client. Each session must be paid for at the time of booking. Clients may reschedule up to 24 hours in advance at no additional charge.

There will be no refunds for no shows except in emergency situations.

All lessons will take place at The House unless otherwise worked out. If lessons take place at another studio, or travel is required there will be additional fees based on studio rental fees and mileage. We charge $1 per mile outside of a 15 mile radius from the instructor's location.

Lessons can be scheduled anytime before and after those times and on the weekends unless they take place off-site.
